

Smokeless Ash Receptacle

HALO

Only from Quick Crete,
the last smokeless ash receptacle you'll ever need to purchase.

Meet the newest member of your maintenance staff – the Halo from Quick Crete, a truly smokeless ash receptacle, that keeps cigarette butts off the ground, out of sight and under control.

And with seven designs, from classic to contemporary, there's a Halo for any environment.

Find out just what happens when science and style intersect. The Halo from Quick Crete – the smartest, strongest, hardest-working employee you'll never hire.

EFFICIENCY

- No more dirty cigarette butts to deal with rain or shine
- Empties in 15 seconds
- Capacity of 350 - 500 cigarette butts – less frequent disposal
- No anchoring required

"School officials say landscapers who should be planting flowers and pruning shrubs are spending time instead picking up butts on the 15,000-acre campus:

Some 13 landscapers spend 10 hours a week picking up discarded cigarettes at an estimated cost of $150,000."

– Philadelphia Daily News, on Penn State Cigarette Litter Costs

"The Halo is perfect for our campus. We can put it exactly where it is needed most and it looks great in any location. Maintenance is minimal; it has a huge capacity; it's easy to empty and it's concrete construction is virtually vandal proof. Finally a solution that we don't have to replace year after year."
